
Christopher Nolan

Managing Director

Chris is a Managing Director in the New York office of PricewaterhouseCoopers Corporate Finance LLC with a specific focus on the generation of large, international consumer and industrial transactions. A veteran investment banker with more than 14 years of M&A experience and a seasoned executive with 12 years of corporate experience, he combines substantial M&A knowledge, industry expertise and business strategy.

He has sourced and participated in numerous cross-border and domestic transactions ranging from US$40MM to US$400MM in enterprise value. From 2006 to 2014, Chris was a Managing Director in Rabobank International's M&A group. He joined Rabobank in August 2002 in order to bolster their fledging M&A practice, focused on the food and agribusiness sector.

Prior to Rabobank, Chris served as Vice President, Chemicals, in the M&A group at Deutsche Bank in New York from 2000 to 2002. Prior to that, he held a similar position at Citigroup. Prior to becoming an investment banker, Chris served as Vice President, Corporate Development and Investor Relations at International Specialty Products.

Chris has an MBA from Harvard Business School (1992) and a Bachelor of Science in Chemical Engineering from Lafayette College (1986).