

David Richmond
Fonterra Co-Operative Group,
General Manager, Trade Strategy & Stakeholder Affairs – EMEA
M: +31 (0) 629 727 523
E: david.richmond@fonterra.com

David is a proud New Zealander and member of the Fonterra family. As a co-operative which is owned by 10,500 farmers and their families, Fonterra is New Zealand's largest organisation and a world leading dairy producer and exporter employing 22,000 people globally and taking dairy nutrition to billions of consumers around the world. During his 8 years working at Fonterra David has held roles across the areas of milk supply, global operations, global supply chain, and global stakeholder affairs. Now based in Amsterdam, David is responsible for trade strategy and stakeholder affairs across Europe, Russia, the Middle East, and Africa.

David holds a Bachelor of Commerce and Administration from Victoria University of Wellington majoring in management, industrial relations, and commercial law; a Bachelor of Commerce with first class honours from the University of Auckland specialising in organisational change and innovation; and a Master of Commerce with first class honours from the University of Auckland specialising in corporate strategy.