

Lior Yaron M.Sc.

Vice President

Large Customer Project Support

DeLaval International AB

Lior Yaron was appointed to Vice President Large Customer Project Support in September 2006. He and his team are responsible for providing new large dairy customers with total customised solutions and supporting existing large dairy customers with knowledge transfer and advanced competence training. Before joining DeLaval, Lior worked with a number of dairy farms in Africa, Eastern Europe and China. He has held many different dairy farm management, project design and dairy cattle training positions in more than 10 developing countries.

From 2000 to summer of 2006 Lior lived in Beijing, China supporting the local Dairy Industry in their National Dairy Development Project, In 2003 Lior received the “Great Wall Friendship Award” from the Prime Minister of Beijing for supporting the China dairy development. Lior Yaron constantly applies his knowledge and experience to the dairy sector to improve overall dairy farm management and sustainable dairy farming techniques for the future.

Lior Yaron is author and co-author of a number of dairy science publications and books on milk production, dairy farm design and nutrition management. He is also a frequent speaker in seminars related to dairy cow management, design and nutrition.